

Copyright / DMCA Policy

Last updated: May 26, 2026

This Copyright / DMCA Policy explains how Trafium handles copyright, trademark, intellectual property, brand abuse, impersonation, and content infringement complaints related to <https://trafium.ai> and related services.

Trafium is operated by TRAFIUM LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY, a company registered in the Republic of Armenia (“Trafium”, “TRAFIUM LLC”, “we”, “us”, or “our”).

This Policy forms part of our Terms of Service and Acceptable Use Policy.

1. Purpose of This Policy

Trafium provides AI-powered website generation, article generation, SEO content automation, semantic keyword collection, WordPress-related publishing tools, and related digital services.

Users may generate websites, articles, pages, metadata, SEO structures, keyword-based content, WordPress-ready content, and other digital materials using Trafium.

Trafium respects intellectual property rights and expects users to do the same.

This Policy explains how copyright owners, trademark owners, brand owners, authorized representatives, and affected parties may report allegedly infringing or abusive content or activity.

2. User Responsibility

Users are responsible for ensuring that all content they submit, generate, publish, export, automate, or distribute through Trafium does not violate third-party rights.

Users must not use Trafium to:

- copy third-party websites without permission;
- publish copyrighted text, images, code, video, audio, designs, or other materials without rights;
- imitate brands, logos, trademarks, trade dress, or business identities without authorization;
- create misleading copies of competitor websites;
- create fake login pages or impersonation pages;
- generate or publish content that violates copyright, trademark, publicity, privacy, or other rights;
- use third-party materials without a valid license, permission, or legal basis;
- use AI-generated content to mislead users, search engines, platforms, or rights holders.

Trafium does not automatically verify every user prompt, uploaded material, generated website, generated article, exported item, or published page for intellectual property compliance.

3. AI-Generated Content

AI-generated content may sometimes be similar to existing content, especially when users provide common topics, generic prompts, popular keywords, brand names, competitor references, third-party materials, or existing website examples.

Trafium does not guarantee that AI-generated content is unique, original, non-infringing, or free from similarity to third-party materials.

Users are responsible for reviewing generated content before publication and for using plagiarism, copyright, trademark, brand, and legal checks where appropriate.

4. Reporting Copyright Infringement

If you believe that content generated, hosted, published, linked, exported, distributed, or made available through Trafium infringes your copyright, you may send a copyright notice to:

legal@trafium.ai

Your notice should include:

- your full legal name;
- your company or organization name, if applicable;
- your contact email address;
- your mailing address, if applicable;
- a description of the copyrighted work you claim has been infringed;
- the URL or location of the allegedly infringing content;
- a description of why you believe the content infringes your rights;
- evidence of ownership or authorization to act on behalf of the copyright owner;
- a statement that you have a good faith belief that the disputed use is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law;
- a statement that the information in your notice is accurate;
- your physical or electronic signature.

Incomplete notices may delay review.

5. Reporting Trademark, Brand Abuse, or Impersonation

If you believe Trafium is being used to infringe your trademark, impersonate your brand, create fake login pages, mislead users, or create confusingly similar websites, you may report the issue to:

legal@trafium.ai

Your notice should include:

- your full legal name;
- your company or organization name;
- your contact email address;
- the trademark, brand, company, product, or business identity involved;
- trademark registration details, if applicable;
- the URL or location of the allegedly infringing, impersonating, or misleading content;
- a description of the issue;
- evidence that you own or are authorized to act for the brand, company, or trademark owner;
- screenshots or supporting documentation, if available.

6. Urgent Abuse, Phishing, Malware, or Fraud

If the issue involves phishing, fake login pages, credential theft, fraud, malware, impersonation, security threats, or urgent user harm, contact:

abuse@trafium.ai

Please use the subject line:

URGENT ABUSE REPORT

Urgent abuse reports should include:

- the URL or location of the harmful content;
- a description of the abuse;
- screenshots or technical evidence, if available;
- why you believe the activity is harmful, unlawful, fraudulent, or unsafe;
- your contact information.

Trafium may prioritize reports involving phishing, malware, credential theft, fraud, brand impersonation, or user harm.

7. Review Process

After receiving a complaint, Trafium may review the report and take appropriate action.

Depending on the circumstances, Trafium may:

- request additional information;
- notify the user responsible for the content;
- remove or disable access to content;
- disable publishing or autoposting features;
- disconnect integrations;
- restrict export or generation features;
- suspend or terminate an account;
- preserve records for legal, security, or compliance purposes;

reject complaints that are incomplete, unsupported, abusive, fraudulent, or invalid; take no action if the complaint is not sufficiently supported.

Trafium does not act as a court and may not be able to determine complex ownership, licensing, fair use, trademark, contractual, or business disputes.

If a dispute requires legal interpretation or ownership determination, the parties may need to resolve it directly or through the appropriate legal process.

8. Counter-Notice

If your content was removed or restricted because of a copyright, trademark, or infringement complaint and you believe this was a mistake, you may send a counter-notice to:

legal@trafium.ai

Your counter-notice should include:

- your full legal name;
- your contact email address;
- identification of the content that was removed or restricted;
- the URL, project, or content location, if available;
- a statement explaining why you believe the removal or restriction was a mistake;
- evidence that you have rights to use the content, if available;
- a statement that the information in your counter-notice is accurate;
- your physical or electronic signature.

Trafium may, at its discretion and where legally appropriate, restore the content, keep it disabled, request more information, or require the parties to resolve the dispute directly.

9. Repeat Infringers

Trafium may suspend or terminate accounts of users who repeatedly violate intellectual property rights or receive repeated credible infringement complaints.

Trafium may also restrict generation, export, publishing, WordPress integration, autoposting, or other features for users involved in repeated infringement, impersonation, or abuse.

10. False or Abusive Notices

Do not submit false, misleading, abusive, or bad-faith infringement notices.

A false complaint may cause harm to users and may expose the complainant to legal liability.

Trafium may reject complaints that appear fraudulent, abusive, incomplete, unsupported, or submitted for anti-competitive, harassment, censorship, or other improper purposes.

11. Third-Party Websites and Hosting

Trafium may help users generate, export, or publish content to WordPress websites, CMS platforms, hosting providers, domains, or other third-party services.

Some allegedly infringing or abusive content may be hosted outside Trafium's infrastructure.

If content is hosted on a third-party website, hosting provider, CMS, domain, or platform not controlled by Trafium, you may also need to contact the relevant website owner, host, domain registrar, CMS provider, or platform.

12. No Legal Advice

This Policy does not provide legal advice.

If you are unsure whether content infringes copyright, trademark, privacy, publicity, or other rights, you should consult a qualified legal professional.

13. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Copyright / DMCA Policy from time to time.

If we make material changes, we may provide notice through Trafium, by email, or by posting a notice on trafium.ai.

Your continued use of Trafium after the updated Policy becomes effective means you accept the updated Policy.
